Good day everyone! When I boot my computer, it's natural to set 7 to autorun. Everything would be fine, but it does not start there and you have to reinstall it from time to time. Installed everywhere. I tried to add the systfs folder to the boot partition, which is writable, and only then enter the disk and put it in the drive. And, of course, USB and BIOS modes by pressing the power key. everything works great. Even on a laptop with an integrated Intel Celeron 330MHz processor. Z.Y. Now I reinstalled Vista Full Rus and installed it on two screws on the website of the Akronis Scenic constructor. Everything loads and works.
