Heat exchanger Category:Heat transfer Category:Exchange of heat Category:Measuring instrumentsSynthesis of highly-dispersed PtNi alloy nanoparticles for fuel cell and supercapacitor applications. Highly-dispersed PtNi alloy nanoparticles with narrow size and uniform size distribution were successfully prepared by using PVP as a stabilizer and NaBH<sub>4</sub> as reducing agent in a one-step synthesis process. The average size of the as-prepared PtNi alloy nanoparticles was found to be ca. 4 nm. These alloy nanoparticles were characterized by means of transmission electron microscopy (TEM), X-ray diffraction (XRD) and X-ray photoelectron spectroscopy (XPS). The results show that the strong size and size distribution dispersion of the alloy nanoparticles were ascribed to the dual-phase formation mechanism and/or the formation of multiple intermediate phases. The electrochemical analysis of the as-prepared PtNi alloy nanoparticles showed that the alloy nanoparticles had excellent electrocatalytic properties for methanol oxidation in alkaline solution.Q: Why is the value of data that changes on the actual device that users log in the state user data.php? In a login form, the username, password, and email are stored in the database. The login data is sent via ajax to a PHP script that checks if the username and password match with the data in the database. The code in the PHP file looks like this: $username = $_POST['user_name']; $password = $_POST['password']; $email = $_POST['email']; $slog_user = mysqli_query($connect, "SELECT * FROM ". Table. " WHERE 'email' = '". $email. "' and 'username' = '". $username.
