We're hoping to continue moving as fast as we can through our pilot project, but we're still waiting for experts to reach the clouds and advise us on the next steps. And right now, we're still working to transfer the ownership of the project to the Openstack community. What's next This isn't the end of the OpenEHR project. We'll be talking to the Openstack community to transition the project from our pilot project to a full-blown independent open source project. But for now, the project is no longer considered part of Canonical's effort to support emerging open source standards. We've already started a separate effort to develop a new official OpenEHR Linux distribution that will be released under the GPLv3 open source license. Canonical plans to make sure this will be a fully supported and safe enterprise grade Openstack distribution that can be adapted easily by Ubuntu software developers to create a complete Openstack implementation. That project will be designed with the goal of being supported by Canonical for as long as we can — and to make sure it is safe for enterprise use.

Q: Can't add class to a div which has another div inside (Ionic) I have a section in my ionic app with a div tag and inside one more div. But when I add the class to the first it won't work. If I add the same tag but without a div it works fine and I can add the class and it changes the background. Title Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit, sed do eiusmod tempor incididunt ut labore et dolore magna aliqua. On the second the div is empty. A: That is not how the DOM works. There can only be one element with the same tag name per document. If you have two elements like in your example, the browser needs to remove the tags from the first one and insert the of the second one. I suggest to wrap the content of the first section in a , the parent element of the second section as well. So it will look like this: Title Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit, sed do eiusmod tempor incididunt ut labore et dolore magna aliqua.

System Requirements:

Chronicle's Edge requires a 64-bit CPU running at 3.8 GHz, 16 GB RAM, and at least a GeForce GTX 750 Ti GPU. These are all fairly normal system requirements. If you've got any of those, you'll be fine. Chronicle's Edge runs on Windows 10, 64-bit version, if you've got it already. It can be run on Windows 7 (32-bit) as well, but you'll have to do some fiddling with the in-game
