“Our goal is to deliver the most lifelike and authentic football experience to the millions of fans around the world,” said David Rutter, Executive Vice President of EA SPORTS, via a press release. “We developed ‘HyperMotion’ technology to allow us to capture the movement and chemistry of a live match. With FIFA 22 and our development tools, we are able to utilize this information to deliver a realistic football experience.” Now into its ninth year of the Fifa series, which has shipped more than 100 million units, new features in FIFA 22 include broadcast-quality match audio and visualizations, the new National Teams, improved gameplay camera angles, higher-fidelity animations, added difficulties for new and experienced players and improvements to goal-line technology. You can take a closer look at the gameplay improvements over at EA SPORTS' website. To give you a sense of what’s new in the new game, we sat down with EA Canada Creative Director Eric Chahi to talk about the new National Teams, FIFA Ultimate Team and more. PC GameSpot: Let's start with the National Teams. We have the new Women's World Cup, which is available to play now. What was your process of coming up with the rosters for the new teams? Eric Chahi, Creative Director: We have made a lot of changes. The Women's World Cup does of course have a unique, special place in the football calendar. We had first the opportunity to work on our first Women's World Cup about a year ago. After we finished the Women's World Cup edition, we had a lot of time to work on the Women's Super League, which we launched last year, and we were very focused on getting the Women's World Cup to happen. About one year ago, after the Women's World Cup was finished, we started thinking about a progression. That's really what the Women's Super League was about. We didn't want to bring players together and then basically put them on pause for a few years. We wanted to create the first World Class competition for our Women's World Cup. A year ago, that meant a lot of work about figuring out what players we were going to have in the teams. At first we were thinking about different technical options, but what we ended up with was a list of players we liked. There were a lot of players like that. We then had to figure out, “Well, the core

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- HyperReal Player Motion, captivated by the blend of the on-the-ball and off-the-ball player movements. Never before have players reacted to the changing circumstances of a game as dynamically as in FIFA 22. This year’s engine also utilises the game data from the real-life match the 22 players were wearing capture suits. The analysis has been used to strengthen the on-the-ball technique, with new reactive animations in and around the box. One example is a player who runs aggressively towards the ball with their chest up high to win the ball back with a chest-to-chest tackle.
- Defensive System - FIFA 22 introduces Defending AI, where the real-life players were captured, analysed, digitized, and dynamically enhanced to help the defensive play in all situations. When you dive, it automatically shortens the bounce to gain possession over the ball and make tackles with more consistency, urgency and balance.

- Direct Control – New features of Attacking and Defensive Control have been added, giving you full control of precisely how to set up your attack or defensive tactics to find the right solution at any time.
- Pass and Decide – With new Decision Making Situations, you will have more decision-making opportunities when you play against specific opponents in various types of game modes and leagues; You can make a decision without the crowd distractions in post-match ceremonies, or you can send your defensive-minded striker away to help you build your attack under the radar.
- Dunia Ultimate Ultimate Team Arena: Tag your players, bag your stars and build the ultimate FIFA dream team. FIFA Ultimate Team will take players from the latest career mode and bring them to life in the dedicated Ultimate Team Arena.
- “The Journey” – The Journey Creator lets you experience the journey of your players in a completely new way, making each of your real life players a fictional club. Enhance your career with the ability to create your own world, starting from scratch and achieving legendary status. Customise leagues, stadiums, kits and transfers to create your team’s identity and performance. Using the advanced creation tools, you’ll now be able to make your dream squad and make your players’ journeys even more authentic.
- Air Got Talent – Airborne! With new airborne stunts and fancy

Last year's addition to EA SPORTS FIFA, Ultimate Team is back to give players unprecedented control over managing their very own set of players. Create your own Dream Team, face off against other players in head-to-head online play, win the Community Ballon d'Or, and manage your squad and formation like a pro, with new cards, items, kits, and even boots giving players more ways to express themselves. EA SPORTS™ FIFA 16 PLAYER AND TEAM ASSIST Thanks to the revolutionary Player and Team Assist mechanic, this year's FIFA has in-game prompts to remind players of where they need to be on the pitch. While these assists provide players with a new way to become involved in the action, the change in how assists work also means that mistakes can be punished even more quickly. As the game becomes more important in your player's career, the pressure of a misplaced pass can have an instant impact on your team's performance. This year's FIFA brings revolution in-game prompts, to remind players of where they need to be on the pitch. Passes can be mis-hits to the pitch or the wrong team, and on-pitch prompts can indicate where your team needs to be on defense or offense. EA SPORTS™ FIFA 16 AMATEUR TIMED FITTING We have taken the goalkeeping core of FIFA 15 and added two in-game prompts and a new third off-the-ball prompt, allowing players to make those critical decisions in game more quickly in a variety of ways. You'll have the option to react in-game through an immediate reaction or can even react off-the-ball. The new prompt that we've added allows the user to also choose to kick the ball instead. This is the first system of its kind and we're excited to see how the community uses it. EA SPORTS™ FIFA 16 EACH TEAM DEFENSIVE SYSTEM We've designed a whole set of new defensive systems that allow the game to be more reactive and proactive in defending and attacking runs, delivering improved face-off control and the best gameplay possible. HAND CONTROL FIFA 16 moves to a brand new control system that is both more intuitive and responsive. Last year's controller-pushing system has been entirely removed, replaced by a new, bold, and more accurate motion sensing system with a wide array of contextual prompts
