Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a terminal apparatus for transmitting/receiving data by using a short-distance wireless communication technique such as a near-field communication (NFC) and a radio frequency identification (RFID) and a communication method used in the terminal apparatus. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, a variety of electronic products have been developed and reduced in size and weight. This trend is significant in products such as a mobile phone. Therefore, the portable electronic product such as a mobile phone has been developed to be reduced in size and reduced in thickness and weight. In order to reduce the thickness and weight of the portable electronic product, the electric circuitry is often included in a single casing or a single housing, which can be advantageous for reduction in weight. However, because the housing is made of a resin material having a lower rigidity, the housing may be deformed due to an impact applied by the user or an accident. If the casing or housing is deformed, the electronic device may be damaged, and in some cases, a data transmission/reception function may not be performed. In order to prevent the casing of the electronic device from being deformed, use of a metal casing is recommended. The metal casing is greater in thickness than the resin casing. Therefore, the thickness of the portable electronic product may be increased. In addition, metal parts such as an antenna or a connector may be added. In this case, the weight of the portable electronic product may be increased. Therefore, it is difficult to reduce the thickness and weight of the portable electronic product. Furthermore d0c515b9f4
