Registry DeleteEx.The City of Calgary has decided to ban pit bulls from the downtown core over safety concerns, the worst-kept secret in Calgary dog-focused circles. The ban takes effect in December of 2019 and is aimed at limiting the number of dogs in the downtown core, and keeping them leashed or restrained when outside the home. The number of dogs living in the downtown core will be capped at 30, and you can see the bylaws here. Despite the fact that pit bulls make up a fraction of dog bites, they're also the most deadly. There were 2343 dog-related deaths in Canada between April 2015 and March 2017, around 20 per cent of which were pit bulls. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of Alberta (SPCA) identifies pit bulls as the "most dangerous dogs in Canada." Pit bulls were involved in 1,533 dog-related fatalities over the same period. Over half of the pit bull fatalities occurred in Calgary. The animal 1cdb36666d
